Your motivation compass

Forget the answer that sounds impressive. What would make this trip worth taking for you?

1. What am I curious about?

2. What would I like a break from, and what will still need dealing with?

3. What would a good ordinary day on this trip feel like?

4. What would I like to bring home: a skill, a friendship, a memory, a different routine?

5. If nobody saw my photos, would I still want this trip? Why?

You don’t need a life-changing reason. Wanting to explore is a perfectly decent start.
