Your itinerary builder

Start with the things you care about. Group them sensibly, add breathing room and stop trying to cross the city six times before lunch.

1. Your trip profile

Destination / full days available

Arrival and departure times

Pace: relaxed / balanced / busy

Three interests that matter most

Budget and comfort limits

2. Build a useful shortlist

Must-do	Nice nearby option	Backup for rain / low energy

One or two fixed highlights can be enough for a day. Allow for meals, queues, travel and the fact that you are a person, not a timetable.

3. Group by area

Neighbourhood / zone	Activities nearby	Opening / booking notes

4. Choose a realistic rhythm

Mix fuller days with lighter ones. Put time-sensitive activities first, then leave choices that can be dropped without a financial penalty. Allow more recovery around long transfers.

- ☐ Opening days and travel times checked.
- ☐ Activities grouped sensibly.
- ☐ Bookings saved offline.
- ☐ A lighter alternative exists.
- ☐ Unbooked time remains.

Daily plan: copy this page for each day

Date / area / main priority

Block	Plan	Travel + time	Backup

Food, breaks and access needs

What I would change next time

Bookings and budget

Item / date	Reference	Cost / currency	Terms / deadline

Daily spending target

Trip buffer / return-home money

- ☐ Entry documents and any authorisations checked.
- ☐ Insurance and health preparation arranged for this trip.
- ☐ First arrival and accommodation access planned.
- ☐ Essential documents, maps and contacts work offline.